HOME to GROW

In our home, we're learning that growing up isn't something we rush.
It's something we live.

In the messy mornings, the mismatched socks, the giggles in the kitchen, the "I'll do it myself" moments that take a little longer but mean everything.

We're raising little humans who explore at their own pace — who learn by touching, trying, tasting, falling, getting back up, and trying again. Because childhood isn't a performance.

It's freedom.

It's fingerprints on the fridge, paint on the sleeves, tiny shoes by the door ready for a new adventure.

And we, as parents, we're not here to perfect it.

We're here to be present.

To guide gently, to stay close but not in the way.

To offer a safe place they can always come back to — even as we give them space to wander, wonder, and figure out the world in their own wild, beautiful way.

This collection was made for that rhythm:

for the mornings spent playing outside,

for afternoons at the market

for the stories read together for the moments when they want to help — cooking, creating, learning

It's about being their home, and also giving them room to fly.

It's about the beauty of learning through play and the joy of watching them grow into exactly who they are.

1. Color Palette

The Fall-Winter 2026 season embraces a warm, enveloping, and comforting almond tone — like a cosy hug on the first chilly days of winter. Alongside it, pink, green, grey, and blue appear as companion shades, bringing touches of sweetness, freshness, serenity, and calm. Together, these colors create a palette that caresses the skin and the heart, reflecting the delicacy, magic, and freedom of childhood.

2. Materials

Each piece is crafted with respect for children and the planet. Eco-friendly cotton — organic, recycled, or regenerative — wraps little ones in softness and security. Warm, gentle finishes provide comfort, while the new 100% organic cotton denim adds character and freedom of movement. Knits and wools, now made with recycled fibers, maintain the softness, warmth, and durability that make them unforgettable, blending responsibility, comfort, and longevity in every piece.

3. Patterns

The patterns tell stories of everyday life, with timelessness and care. Softly faded solids, delicate florals, simple stripes, and classic checks add personality and charm. Among them, the waffle check stands out: ultra-light, full of character, and playful, transforming every outfit into a special moment without ever losing the essence of childhood.

4. Silhouettes

Silhouettes are thoughtfully designed to follow every moment of the day. Relaxed fits and versatile layers allow freedom, comfort, and movement, adapting to play, discovery, and adventure. Each piece grows with the child, becoming a companion of memories, style, and freedom, keeping pace not only with their rhythm but also with the rhythm of family life.

5. What this collection reflects

More than clothing, this collection embodies comfort, freedom, learning, and care. Every color, texture, pattern, and shape has been chosen so that children feel free, inspired, protected, and special, while families discover pieces that cross seasons, mix effortlessly, and create memories of childhood that last a lifetime.

Sales: January 5th until March 8th
